

OPEN HOUSE

Your smart home tour starts here and now...

This is a controller—it's the brain of your smart home. It makes it possible for you to control virtually any electronic device or appliance or system in your home.

You can control things in your smart home with a remote, touch screen, tablet, smart phone or computer. You decide.

You can monitor and control your smart home even when you're not there. Get text alerts if your garage door was left open or be notified the minute your kids get home.

Cameras and smart locks give you peace of mind that your treasures inside are safe and sound.

Start with one area of control. It's easy to add more features or rooms over time, or as your budget allows.

Welcome to your smart kitchen. Appliances tell you how to be more energy efficient. Music and lighting match your cooking style. Recipes, accessible on any screen.

Your kids work hard all day to turn on all the lights. With one "Goodnight" button, turn off all 25 just before you go to bed.

Smart homes deliver smart energy control. Set your thermostats to power on when you're home, power down when you're not.

With touch screens throughout the house, you can always keep an ear on the baby.

With just one single remote, enjoy control over your TV, receiver, DVR, media player, CD changer or virtually any system in your home theater setup.

One-touch party button automatically dims the lights and starts the jazz for your dinner guests. Plus, enjoy your entire music collection from any room in the house.
